

LIBRARY BINGO

Instructions

It's easy! Just grab a sheet and start reading! In order to prevent loss of the Bingo Boards, we'll keep your board at the librarian's desk, but you are free to take home a copy for your reference.

For each book you read or activity you do on the sheet, you can cross off a square. Do this by telling the librarian which book you read or which activity you did. The honor system will be used when filling in the squares, but if you are found to have cheated, you will be disqualified from the program. For each square you cross off, you'll get a piece of candy. Once you cross off an entire row in any direction, you can add your name to the raffle jar for the gift card drawing. If you complete the entire card, you get an extra entry in the raffle jar! There is no limit on the number of Bingo cards completed per person.
