IT'S CORNED BEEF TIME!

Savor delicious delicatessen when our 14th annual Corned Beef on Rye – Sure to Satisfy Fundraiser returns on Thursday, October 15 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. New this year is a double meat sandwich as part of our traditional and delicious boxed meals! Still can't get enough? Order additional pounds of corned beef and loaves of rye bread, too.

Boxed meals are $14 each when ordered by Thursday, October 1. After that date and at the door, meals are $15 each. Each meal includes a heaping 1/3-pound corned beef sandwich on rye, giant pickle, creamy cole slaw, fudgy brownie, and a drink. For an extra $6 per meal, we'll add another 1/3 pound of corned beef to your sandwich. Find an order form and bulk prices at www.templecav.org. See page 2 for volunteer needs.

Become a sponsor by donating $100 or more to help underwrite our costs by Thursday, October 1. Names of individuals and businesses will be recognized in every meal. Thank you to our Co-Chairs Larry Adelman, Kris Gray, Melissa Kessel, and Bonnie Pomerantz!

Please join us as our son
Samuel Marcus

GROUNDBREAKING AND SIGN DEDICATION FOR RIFKIN CAMPUS

Please join us on Thursday, October 1 at 8:30 a.m. when we break ground on the new $1.07 million Madge Rothschild Resource Center and dedicate the Rifkin

Campus at 5200 sign.

The centerpiece of our project is the Madge Rothschild Resource Center, which is set to open in Fall 2016. Designed by Architect Richard Wismer, the 3,150-square-foot space will focus on the Jewish Experience in Northeast Indiana over the past two centuries, as well as Holocaust education, and will include museum and library space. Plans include an 1,100-square-foot inner courtyard with proposed sculpture garden visible from the Resource Center.

The new sign along Old Mill Road features the names of the Temple and our Campus Partners: the Jewish Federation of Fort Wayne, the Fort Wayne Jewish Cemetery Association, the Madge Rothschild Resource Center, and long-time resident Brightpoint Head Start.

Created from stone and bronze, the new sign was designed by Sculptor Cary Shafer, who describes it this way: "Limestone panels and columns mimic the Temple's limestone facade. Negative spaces are integral to the design, separating each tenant plaque, allowing the eye to move from cube to cube, space to space, with ever-changing background scenes." The structure consists of 8,000 pounds of Indiana Limestone, cold rolled steel, and bronze panels, each element fabricated using local resources.

ADULT LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES

Expand your Jewish knowledge and friendships by being part of our growing community of lifelong learners! Ongoing sessions coming this fall include:

Journey Into The World Of Yiddish - Register today for the "Journey Into The World of Yiddish" class taught by Dr. Lee Roberts, Associate Professor of German Studies at IPFW. The class begins Sunday, October 25 from 12:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Open to Temple members and non-members. Find information on dates and cost on our website. Questions? Contact Adult Learning Chair Jan Sarratore at Sarratorej@comcast.net.

First Friday Dinner & Torah Study - Join us on Friday, November 6 for our first monthly Shabbat "Dinner and Torah Study" as part of our Library Shabbat! The evening begins at 5:30 p.m. with a potluck dinner. Please bring a side dish for eight people to share. RSVP by November 4 to the Temple office. During the service, we'll read from the Torah.

Saturday Torah Study - Temple members are invited beginning Saturday, November 14 to join Rabbi Cattapan on the 2nd and 4th Saturday morning of the month at 9:30 a.m. at his home to discuss the weekly Torah portion. Please RSVP by Thursday, November 12 to the Temple office.

Hot Topics Shabbat - On the third Friday of the month beginning November 20, we'll meet at 7 p.m. for our "Hot Topics" service and learn about a current event and how it relates to Reform Jews.

Introduction to Judaism Class - Introduction to Judaism is an 18-week overview of Jewish history, traditions, holidays and life-cycle ceremonies taught by Rabbi Cattapan. The class is designed for non-affiliated individuals and interfaith couples wishing to explore Judaism, as well as for those considering becoming Jewish. If you (or someone you know) is interested in taking this class, please contact the Temple office to let Rabbi Cattapan know.

SHABBAT B'YACHAD AT B'NAI JACOB

We will not have a service at the Temple on Friday, October 16 so that we may come together as a Jewish community for Shabbat B'yachad \(Shabbat Together\) at 7 p.m. at Congregation B'nai Jacob. An Oneg Shabbat follows. Please be aware that U.S. 24 is closed at Bittersweet Moors Drive between Homestead and Amber roads. Check our website to find an alternate route.

Rabbi Javier Cattapan

ISRAEL: THREE THINGS ON WHICH WE ALL AGREE

As a synagogue, we are called to learn and to pray together, with those who agree with us, as well as with those who don't. We must find areas in which we agree about Israel, and join our voices in prayer. The issue of Iran is not over, nor is the continuous de-legitimization of Israel occurring on college campuses across North America as well as at many international forums.

In this New Year, more than ever, we must find common ground among our people and show our unyielding support for a Jewish and democratic State of Israel. There is hope, because we should be able to agree on at least three points about Israel, if not more.

Firstly, American Jews care deeply about Israel. The 2013 Pew Research Center poll concludes that we are "emotionally very attached" (30%) or "somewhat attached" (39%) to Israel. These findings closely resemble results from the last National Jewish Population Survey in 2000-2001. Yet it is hard to ascertain from a survey what "emotionally very attached" means. It is hard to explain because it's emotional. We need to be able to articulate it, so we can be an advocate of Israel in our family, and among our friends, both Jewish and non-Jewish. Expressing our emotional connection to Israel helps Israel and her people.

Secondly, we all believe that American Jews and Israeli Jews should share common values about the centrality of democracy and civil rights. We must agree that the same value placed on civil rights by American Jews, in our own country, must be expected from Israelis as well. Our early Reformers saw the mission of the Jewish people as being "a light unto the Nations." That message is still valid. We pray that our brothers and sisters in Israel never lose track of that mission and that Israelis will join us in demanding civil rights for all.

Finally, we need to be seekers of peace. We read in Pirke Avot, the famous Ethics of the Fathers, "Hillel says: Be of the disciples of Aaron, ohav shalom, loving peace and rodef shalom, pursuing peace, loving the creatures and bringing them closer to Torah." Ohev shalom, loving peace, is what our Sages teach, but that does not stand on its own. We must also be seekers of peace; we must actively do something to bring peace about.

I know we all like to disagree on Jewish matters, and it is healthy to do so at some level. Yet, our Sages knew very well that there is such a thing as "too much dissent," especially among our own people. The Talmud teaches that the Second Temple was destroyed because of sinat chinam, "gratuitous hatred," among Jews. The historical reality might have been different—the Temple was destroyed because the Romans decided to make the Jews an example of what happens when you defy the Empire. But our Sages found a deeper meaning in the tragedy: We must never let internal struggles and hatred divide us, not then, not now.

Each of us, in our position in life and within the Jewish community, must be a rodef shalom, a bringer of peace and harmony among people. If each one of us tries our best to be that true disciple of Aaron by sowing harmony and not discord among our people, I know good things will happen in this New Year. At the beginning of a New Year, we are called to be open to compassion and forgiveness, so we pray for peace and understanding. We pray that 5776 and the years to follow will be a time of peace for ALL people, but especially for our beloved State of Israel.

(Excerpts from Rosh Hashanah 5776 Morning Message)

SUKKOT CELEBRATION WITH MUSICIAN ALAN GOODIS

Come shake the lulav, inhale the lovely scent of the etrog, and visit our festive sukkah on Friday, October 2 at 7 p.m. as we celebrate Sukkot and Shabbat led by Rabbi Cattapan with Musician Alan Goodis. Students in fifth grade will be called to the bimah to receive their prayer books in honor of beginning their b'nei mitzvah studies. An Oneg Shabbat follows.

Congratulations to our fifth-grade students and their parents:

- Naomi Gephart, daughter of Betsy & Geoff Gephart
- Joseph Katinsky, son of Nola & Matthew Katinsky

HELP UNROLL A SCROLL ON SIMCHAT TORAH

Join us for a festive Simchat Torah celebration on Friday, October 9 at 7 p.m. led by Rabbi Cattapan.

Nothing quite compares! We'll parade the scrolls through the Sanctuary, enjoy festive singing and flag waving, and complete the reading of the Book of Deuteronomy while also beginning the Book of Genesis. An Oneg Shabbat follows.

LIBRARY SHABBAT ON NOVEMBER 6

Celebrate Jewish Book Month with a potluck Shabbat dinner and Torah Study on Friday, November 6 that includes book reviews from our Friends of the Library.

Join us at 5:30 p.m. for dinner. We'll provide the chicken. Please bring a side dish for eight people to share. (RSVP by November 4 to the Temple office.) At 6 p.m., our Friends of the Library will share thoughts on a few of the new titles in our collection. To participate, visit the "Friends of the Library" on the Temple website for details, choose an available title, purchase a copy to donate, and offer a review of the book. (See page 6)

Our Shabbat Service will begin at 7 p.m. led by Rabbi Cattapan and will include reading the Torah and discussing the weekly portion. Thank you to the Library Committee for hosting the Oneg Shabbat that follows.

NEW SOUND SYSTEM

We have a new sound system in the Sanctuary. Thank you to Neal Baitcher for sharing his expertise in helping us provide better sound quality.

ROMEOS: BUILDING COMMUNITY ONE MEAL AT A TIME

The Retired Old Men Eating Out guys, contrary to their name, do more than dine together.

Beyond the socializing at a different restaurant every other week, the ROMEOs regularly collect tzedakah and for three years running have chaired the Temple's annual Break-the-Fast.

Richard Manalis, who co-chaired this year's Yom Kippur event with Norm Greenberg, said the ROMEOs feel they are helping the Temple function by providing an opportunity for our congregants to experience community while eating delicious food.

"At one of our lunches, I recounted my fond memories of past Break-the-Fasts -- when (Past President) Linda Kaplan was involved -- and recalled the golden brown blintzes," he said. "Then Chuck (Replane) suggested the ROMEOs take on the challenge of sponsoring and creating the event. The rest is history."

Chuck notes that Rabbi Cattapan, who often joins the group for lunch, originally asked the ROMEOs to consider preparing the traditional meal. Once they agreed, camaraderie came along with the culinary duties.

About 21 men, mostly retired and all Temple members, are part of the ROMEOs, with about 8-10 usually attending lunch on a given week. The group formed four years ago.

Since the Temple does not have a Men's Club, Chuck organized the group as an opportunity for Jewish men age 65 and older to share experiences, stories, and jokes, as well as to help each other out when there was a need and to support worthy causes with their tzedakah.

Rich said that each ROMEO contributes about $2 or $3 per lunch, with the monies used to cover the expenses for the Break-the-Fast. The ROMEOs were formally recognized by the Temple board in September as an "affiliated" organization. While the ROMEOs remain autonomous, the dollars they raise are kept in a fund at the Temple for specific purposes, such as the Break-the-Fast. What other events might the ROMEOs host in the future?

"No one really knows," said Rich, who also serves as the Temple's Membership Committee chair. "There has been some talk of a spaghetti dinner for the Temple. The feeling that most of us have is that, since we are retired, we want to sponsor events that we truly believe in and that we would enjoy doing."

HOLOCAUST & GENEALOGY PROGRAM NEXT MONTH AT THE LIBRARY

A special program on "Genealogy and the Holocaust" will be presented on Sunday, November 15 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Allen County Public Library Main Branch to learn about resources relevant to the Holocaust.

Speakers include Robert M. Ehrenreich, Director of University Programs, and Elizabeth Anthony, International Tracing Service and Partnerships Program Manager, both from the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies at the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum; Curt Witcher, Allen County Public Library Genealogy Center Manager and Director of the Federation of Genealogical Societies; and Irv Adler, a Temple member who will share his experience researching what happened to his family during the Holocaust and discovering new relatives in the process.

The program is sponsored by Congregation Achduth Vesholom, the IPFW Institute for Holocaust and Genocide Studies, the Allen County Public Library Genealogy Center, and the Campus Outreach Lecture Program of the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies, supported by Jack and Goldie Wolfe Miller.

Do you have a family story about the Holocaust or a more recent genocide? Tell it at tellyourfamilystory.tumblr.com.

FORTY members enjoyed the sunshine on a September Sunday while scrubbing cars to raise money for youth programs.

Be part of our Shabbat Katan for children in first grade and younger. Contact the Temple office for more information.

YOUTH NEWS

With good wishes for a sweet year, FOrTY members served apples and honey to congregants after the Rosh Hashanah morning service.

Junior Youth Group members spent a fun September afternoon "Bowling For Wellspring" and raising money for the interfaith social service organization.

FOrTY members and Advisors Libby Dicker, Lee Pomerantz and Dan Zweig went zip-lining as part of a day of team building at Camp Yale in Winchester.

Students in Melissa Kessel's class were excited about a trip to the library on the first day of Religious School.

NEW SPACE AND NEW GOAL FOR THOUGHTFUL THURSDAYS

Thoughtful Thursdays kicked off its sixth year in September helping Brightpoint Head Start families when our Bag Assembly Team gathered in our beautiful new "headquarters" at the Temple.

Our relocation down the hall – next to the Jewish Federation of Fort Wayne offices - came as part of remodeling for the Rifkin Campus at 5200 project.

We also last month successfully completed our Apple Project Fundraiser by raising enough money to provide each of our Head Start families with a bag of fresh apples. Our new goal is to find additional funding to offer more fresh fruits and vegetables.

During the current school year, this Jewish community project will provide food, household and educational items for 72 students and their families, down from 86 last year. The smaller number is because Head Start now is offering full-day pre-school in two classrooms and one half-day class instead of only a half-day program.

Thoughtful Thursdays is a joint project of Congregation Achduth Vesholom, Congregation B'nai Jacob, and the Jewish Federation. We are seeking donations of tissues and canned tuna or canned chicken. Please drop them off at either congregation. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact Jamie Berger at jberger02@comcast.net or (260) 672-8715.

SIGN UP NOW FOR FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

Our Friends of the Library program is back for another year! Help us add to our collection and promote new Jewish books at the same time! Choose a title from our varied list of 80 books, all published within the last five years. Most are award-winning titles. Included are books of adult fiction and non-fiction, biographies, graphic novels, and a few cookbooks!

Sign up at www.templecav.org for a title and purchase a new, hard-cover copy for our collection. Write about your experience with the book and send it to Betsy Gephart at library@templecav.org. Please drop off your book in the Temple office by October 30. If you're interested, you may present your thoughts about the book at our Library Shabbat on Friday, November 6. Contact Betsy with questions.

WE CARE - Please let the Temple office or Rabbi Cattapan know if a family member is in the hospital or if other situations arise when the congregation may be of assistance or comfort. We aren't always aware of situations unless family or friends notify us.

ISRAEL SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE

High school students in 10th and 11th grade who are thinking about participating in a first-time peer program in Israel in Summer 2016 and who reside with family who are contributing members of the Jewish Federation of Fort Wayne Campaign are eligible to apply for the Baum/Goldenberg Israel Scholarship. Please contact the Federation for more information. The deadline for submitting applications is October 29, 2015.

THANKS FOR HOLIDAY HELP

We appreciate our volunteers and staff for making the High Holy Days time so meaningful. Thank you to everyone who assisted.

IT'S NOT TOO LATE TO DONATE A MACHZOR

Honor a loved one or celebrate an event by donating a new High Holy Days prayer book to our congregation. For each $36 donation (payable to "CAV-The Temple") to the Prayer Book Fund, we'll include a bookplate recognizing the donor and occasion. It's a great gift idea to celebrate a birthday or anniversary or to say "thank you." Order forms are available.

WELCOME, NEW MEMBERS!

We're pleased to welcome new members to our congregation, including Marnie Prigozen and her children, Leo Powell, 8, and Iris Powell, 5. They recently moved to Leo from Dayton, Ohio, so that Marnie could be with her fiancé Mark Lowden. Marnie is a high school English teacher.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

During Rosh Hashanah services, there was a lot of discussion regarding our generation's obligation to insure that the Temple remains a vibrant spiritual home for our children and grandchildren. We are the beneficiaries of the previous generations who, through time, talent and treasure sustained the Temple so that our congregation could be a part of so many special moments in all of our lives. Please join me in helping fulfill this obligation.

The 14th Annual Corned Beef on Rye – Sure to Satisfy Fundraiser is fast approaching. If you have not done so already, please mark your calendars for Thursday, October 15 to be part of the Temple's largest and most successful fundraiser. Those congregants who have volunteered and/or supported the fundraiser as sponsors or purchased sandwiches are indispensable. We appreciate your involvement and continued support.

The team of Larry Adelman, Kris Gray, Melissa Kessel and Bonnie Pomerantz has been crucial in continuing to grow our fundraiser. However, we need all members to help this event become even more successful so that we can ensure that the Temple remains on firm financial footing.

The corned beef sale is excellent opportunity to become more engaged with the Temple by not only volunteering your time to help package the meals or help with delivery, but also by becoming an individual or corporate sponsor with a donation of $100 or more.

More importantly, we need you to spread the word to your friends, extended family, and business associates about this once-a-year treat. Your efforts will help us increase revenue from the sale to greatly assist in being able to sustain the Temple for future generations.

We have an even a larger challenge this year due to an increase in the cost of meat, which makes the profit-per-sandwich smaller. As a result, an increase in sales is not only a goal, but a necessity. New this year, for an additional fee, customers will be able to purchase double meat sandwiches, as well as bulk corned beef and loaves of rye bread.

I'm looking forward to seeing you at the sale!
